Campaign Strategy Realigned as Students Register to Vote Here

The hot-spot in the Borough for the next four weeks will be Election District Number One.

In this District, the largest geographically of any in the Borough and, until this week, second largest in number of voters, are the stately town houses of Mercer Street, the big and gracious homes set back on the lawns of Hodge Road — and the dormitories of Princeton University.

How are those newly-registered undergraduates going to vote in November? What will they do to the traditionally Republican east of District One? Will they swing the election?

Last week, after Superior Court Judge Frank J. Kingfield ruled that students who live on campus may register to vote in the towns where they attend college, he extended the registration deadline three days — until this past Tuesday at 9 p.m.

Before the registration deadline, there were 693 registered voters in District One. Only adjoining District Eight was bigger, with 716.

But the new undergraduate registration has brought that figure over the 1,000 mark (for final student registration figures, see page 2), and these new young voters will be courted and sought and solicitously carried to the polls

November 2 like no other group in quite some time.

"I talked to about 150 students after they'd registered," says Borough Democratic mayoralty candidate Ned Schmeier, "and I got the impression there are no hard-core partisans of any kind. Probably the students are liberally inclined, but what does that mean on local issues? Anyhow, I only found two or three who said right away they'd vote for me. But in the end," he added, "I think the majority will support me."

"My impression is that the students are drawn broadly from the whole University community, and I honestly don't know which way they will vote," says Republican Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, who is running for a second term. "rather than taking any one issue to them, we want to find out what their own concerns are: Community work on problems of youth or drugs? The so-called law-and-order theme? Ecology? The University symbolically opened its campus gates to the town — I see giving students the vote as the town opening its gates to them."

Mayor Cawley swept District One when he ran in 1969: 264 votes to 187 for his opponent (present Borough Councilman Alice Male).

Last year, the head runner in District One was the defeated Republican Council candidate Charles Taggart, with 211 votes. But close behind, with 242 was the victorious Democratic Council candidate Joseph Moore. Mr. Moore's tally was a surprise all around, in that heavily Republican area.

Mr. Cawley won the mayoralty two years ago by 476 votes. If Mr. Schmeier is accurate in predicting that the majority of the newly-registered students will vote for him, the students could indeed swing the election Mr. Schmeier's way.

Until the Kingfield ruling on student registration, Mr. Cawley was regarded as a certain winner

STUDENTS REGISTER: Three Princeton University students line up to register in Borough Hall. Jeff Engler (seated) and Bruce Hughes (right) were turned away by the Mercer County Board of Elections official because they are already registered elsewhere. Daniel Erdman (center) of Oaxaca, Mexico, was registered as a Borough voter. He is the first cousin, once removed, of Carl Erdman who served many years as Republican mayor of the Borough.

Unasked Questions Pose a Big One Themselves

The verbal explosions expected for Monday night's school board meeting inexplicably fizzled out and left a standing-room-only audience wondering what had happened.

The Parents of Princeton School Children organization had promised in an advertisement last week that they would confront the school board Monday night with "60 unanswered questions" and in expectation of a lengthy and heated debate, the Community Park all-purpose room was crowded.

However, when Dr. Robert Bierman, board president, asked if anyone in the audience had any questions, no one replied and after a few seconds, he adjourned the meeting. He said afterward that he had no idea why the questions had not been raised.

Mrs. Alfred Green, of the "Parent" group, said on Tuesday that the Parents had written the school board asking for time to speak. Dr. Bierman had telephoned her, she said, and told her that the board would indeed allow time, but not for what he termed "philosophical questions" on education.

"Dr. Bierman acted in all good faith at the meeting," she conceded, "but he did run the whole meeting as briskly and efficiently as possible. I think maybe we were naive and caught off guard."

William Marvel, board member who is chairman of the board's new "Community Relations" committee, said after the meeting that his committee had not yet met with the "Parents" although he had approached them about getting together.

Drugs? One question was raised, however. Arnold Coan, 177 Meadowbrook Drive, demanded to know board policy for dealing with drug use by members of the school staff.

A staff member involved with drugs, either now or in the past, should not be used as a model for youngsters nor should be granted tenure, he declared.

The board has no formal policy; however, Board Counsel Thomas Cook explained that the board would probably use the "conduct unbecoming a professional" or "other just cause" phrases designed to allow a school system to discharge a teacher on tenure.

Charges would be filed, Mr. Cook said, and if the teacher had tenure, the question would go to the state Commissioner of Education.

Superintendent Philip E. McPherson remarked that untenured staff members are always under evaluation.

By a ghostly 6-2 vote — ghostly because it was a personnel question and these are never discussed publicly — the board passed a personnel matter. Dissenters were Winthrop Pike and Philip Cruickshank. Absent for the vote was William Marvel.

In a more open personnel matter, the board accepted Dr. McPherson's advice not to hire a replacement for Stanley Stein, who resigned last summer as Coordinator of Personnel. General personnel responsibility will fall to the Absent for the vote was William Marvel.

Sex. Middle School eighth-graders, maximum number 20, may sign up for a Wednesday afternoon series on sex education. It will be conducted by Dr. J. Anthony Dede, obstetrician, and some of his colleagues. Clergymen, including board member C. George Fitzgerald, will also participate. The series will start October 27 and will last four weeks.

The board also heard proposals relating to religion in the schools. Mrs. Dorothea Lummis, curriculum coordinator, presented a broad policy outline.

A new suspension/expulsion policy for students was described. Dr. Wesley Johnson, associate superintendent, explained that the former policy had no provision for informing parents of a student's status and no provision for accurate record-keeping. He added that the new policy insures that students will be informed of their rights and the resources available for appeal.

Tenure. A citizens committee to explore tenure regulations was named by the Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald. Mrs. Kathleen Edwards of the board, protested that the new committee excluded important socio-economic groups in Princeton, but Mr. Fitzgerald assured her that more people could be added.

Chairman will be Mrs. Carole Outka, a certified teacher. Members are: William Brennan III, Charles P. Donnison, Henry Drewry, Mrs. Maxine Farmer, Winton Manning, Robert Montgomery, Dudley Saville, Robert Staples and Mrs. Martha Louise Stohman.

Driver's Ed. Pay for driver's ed. teachers has been set at $7 an hour. The maximum a teacher may earn at this job is $2,520.

Dr. Bierman commented on last week's drug arrests on the high school grounds (See "Topics of the Town" elsewhere) and said police had acted in a legal manner in a situation which had the potential for violence.

"Dr. Wertheimer (P.H.S. principal) made it obvious to the student body that she would not condone drug use. Surveillance will continue," he warned.

He also praised the principal and high school staff for handling the problems on opening day of school in "an excellent manner."

Dr. McPherson added that parents had co-operated fully in the opening-day situation, and had been helpful in the tightened school policy on tracking down truants.

in the mayoralty contest. The Democrats are divided, with Mrs. Marie Coan, a member of the Princeton Democratic Association, splitting the party and running for mayor as an Independent. Mr. Schneier's chances were regarded as small.

The Democratic candidate said this week that he planned to work hard in District One. "I've already been in close touch with students and I will keep trying," he said. "They've got to be sold."

A Year From Now. Some observers have commented that many of the newly registered students aren't really interested in local elections but are looking ahead to the Presidential race next year. They will really turn out then, and could possibly have more effect in '72 on local questions than they will this year, simply because they'll go right on down the ballot after voting for President.

Curiously, in view of the advance possibility that students would indeed be granted the local vote, neither the Republicans nor the Democrats has any firm strategy for working on the student vote.

Both parties obviously hope to meet as many students as possible. Both parties plan group meetings of some kind, presumably both parties will line up student workers (the Democrats already have a few). But both groups clearly are taking their way.

In the Township, the situation is quite different. Here the key is District Three, where Democrats James Floyd and Thomas Hartmann did splendidly the first time they ran, in 1968.

The District is the residence of graduate students and young married faculty and is regarded mostly by Township Republicans although they campaign there with diligence. Undergraduate registration will probably only buttress District Three as a Democratic stronghold in the Township.

How Many? The University counts 4,500 dormitory residents now entitled to vote. Undergraduate and graduate students who live in dormitories are both included in the tally.

Freshmen don't meet the length of residency requirement, and there are 1,100 freshmen. This leaves 3,400 sophomores, juniors, seniors and dorm-dwelling graduate students. Subtract 300 foreign students and the remaining pool of young voters is 3,100. Around 100 students live off-campus, even in neighboring towns, and are lost in anonymity so far as voter registration goes.

Consolidation. Some young students registering to vote learned about one local issue right away: Princeton Inn College is partly in the Borough and partly in the Township. Inn College residents announcing themselves at Borough Hall were asked, inexplicably, "Which way do you turn to get to your room when you walk in the door?"

If they said "Right," they were signed up in the Borough. If they said "Left," they were sent to Township Hall (or, and no one knows how many this accounts for, were signed up in Borough Hall by the County election official.)

There are 167 students in the Borough side of Inn College and 295 on the Township side, including those in the new Annex. The only other Township dorms are in what students call "New New Quad," northeast of Baker Rink. Here there are 324 students, all potential Township voters. Added to the Inn College contingent, this gives 619 students to the Township.

Register! Informing students about registration seems to have occupied Democrats, both Borough and Township, more than Republicans. Unaffiliated students helped, too. Borough Democrats printed

How Many Student Voters?

Accurate counts of the number of newly registered student voters are difficult because municipal and county officials did not always separate the student from the non-student registrants.

In the Borough, the closest estimate is that 487 students have registered, all from District One. Twenty-six of those registered on Tuesday, last day of the extended deadline.

Township figures are even less precise, but election officials in Trenton tallied 14 student registrants on Friday and Monday. Political organizations in Princeton had already counted 115 new student voters in the Township for an estimated total of 129.

It will be mid-October at the earliest before the county prepares the final voters registration lists.

6,000 flyers with registration information. Flyers did not mention the Democrats as sponsors, by the way. Democrats also manned an information table in the Student Center.

All this activity reminded older residents that students once had the vote, until a 1927 ruling by Mercer County took it away.

The 1927 decision grew out of a Republican primary fight in the Borough. The mayoralty election that year was won by B. Franklin Bunn, who was popular with students because of his interest in the annual Triangle Club Show. Mr. Bunn, now 93, still lives in Princeton.

The losers in the primary challenged student residency requirements and were upheld by the attorney for the Mercer County Board of Elections.

In 1928, students tried to register so they could vote in the Presidential contest between Herbert Hoover and Al Smith, but they were turned down, even though Hoover himself issued a statement of support for the students' right to vote.

The ban on student voting has held, in both Borough and Township, until this year.

VARIANCE GRANTED

For Community Housing. Township Committee Monday night unanimously accepted the use variance for Princeton Community Housing recommended by the Township Zoning Board.

Committeeman Dean Chace, absent in Europe, left behind a letter saying he would have voted "yes" on the zoning variance if he'd been present.

However, he wrote that he was concerned about PCH and taxes. "What annual tax is PCH prepared to pay, and what is the basis for it?" he asked. He also asked how annual tax payments compare with costs of municipal services and school costs, and the Township's share of county taxes.

He said he was worried about the owner of a $30,000 home who pays $1,200 a year in taxes, or $100 a month, and he asked, "How does this compare with the average monthly rent for a PCH apartment?"

If projected costs "greatly exceed" the tax payments PCH is prepared to make, Mr. Chace declared, "I believe we should refer PCH to the voters."

Referendum Urged. William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, repeated his own desire that PCH be submitted to referendum. "You are being asked to subvert the democratic process when you are asked to decide this," he stated.

Mayor James A. Floyd said he "deeply resented" the implication that decision by Committee was out of line; Committeeman Thomas Hartmann said, "I do not believe that a referendum replaces the responsibility of government officials."

Another opponent, T. Burnet Fisher, 542 Snowden Lane, declared "It's a case of the camel getting his nose in the tent," with other multiple housing sure to follow.

Commenting on referendum proposals, Committeeman John D. Wallace said: "I am satisfied that this project has been well-aided. There have been more opportunities for people to express themselves on PCH than in any other matter, over the years."

Mayor Floyd assured the large audience that Committee will continue discussions with PCH to clarify such items as the actual tax PCH will pay.

READY FOR ACTION: Princeton Republican Headquarters are now open at 360 Nassau Street, staffed by Borough and Township volunteers from the Women's Republican Club of Princeton. Pictured here with GOP candidates for Township Committee Barbara Smoyer and John Kuser (center) are (left) Mrs. Richard W. Strazza, executive secretary, and Mrs. Thomas M. Poole, campaign chairman for the Women's Republican Club. Election information may be obtained at the headquarters phone number, 924-6150.

Subsidies Charged. Both Mr. Cherry and Mr. Fisher referred to PCH as "subsidized public housing." Mr. Hartmann pointed out that PCH is not public housing, although 50 of the 240 units will be available to low-income tenants on lease to Princeton Housing Authority.

To Mr. Fisher's charge that 400 additional children would be in the schools, PCH planning consultant Alvin Gershen said that, depending on which survey you used, either 69, 87 or 135 children would come into the schools through PCH. Federal rent subsidies for some units, plus Federal grants to the state keeping mortgage interest rates low assure moderate rents and the payment of taxes, Mr. Gershen said.

CRASH VICTIMS FOUND

In Griggstown Woods. The bodies of a young couple missing since Labor Day were found in a crashed airplane

Saturday in heavy woods about a mile and a half south of Bunker Hill Road, Griggstown. The remains of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy of Ledgewood, parents of four small children, were found by two men posting no-hunting signs. It took state and local police hours to bring the bodies down a deer path to the road.

According to Franklin Township Police Lt. Joseph Juzwik, the bodies were identified on Sunday in Somerset Hospital with the aid of papers found in the single-engine plane.

The police stated that Mr. Cassidy, 36, and his wife, 32, took off in the rented plane during the late evening hours of September 6 from Monmouth County airport, Belmar. Their destination was Flanders Airport, Morris County. They were reported missing the next day.

at Transportation Safety Board said the cause of the crash is being investigated. On Labor Day, the weather was described as cloudy, humid and warm by the Trenton office of the National Weather Service.

The bodies were to be taken to the Davis Funeral Home in Succunna, Morris County. The couple's children are under care of their maternal grandparents.

VARIANCES ARE DENIED

For University Sculptures. Two setback variances which Princeton University sought in connection with two sculptures on campus were denied last week by the Borough Zoning Board.

One involves a metal sculpture already installed at the Nassau Street entrance to Firestone Library; the second concerns another sculpture, "Upstart II" which the University plans to install in front of the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street. Both violated the required setback of 25 feet from the street line.

In a statement to Frank Reiche and John Dumont, attorneys for the University, chairman Robert Sullivan said that the board was not ill disposed toward art but wanted to be in a position to make certain that zoning and planning boards maintain their control over the location of statues in the best interests of the citizens of the Borough.

The board also recommended that an amendment to the zoning ordinance be prepared, dealing with present and future statues along public streets that would allow them where there is no serious difficulty to the public safety.

In a second application, the board recommended to Mayor and Council that William G. Wallace be given a use variance that would permit him to convert two office rooms on the second floor at 125 Nassau Street to a used book store. The area is zoned residential-office and does not allow retail use.

The board did specify, however, that the retail use of the two rooms be limited only to a used bookstore. No one spoke in opposition to the application.

A final application by William K. Seldon to build a house on a substandard lot at 58 Westcott Road was withdrawn. Bernard Glover, secretary to the zoning board, reported that the subdivision will be obtained for the two lots in question which will make both of them comply to the zoning ordinance.

54 NEW METERS, BUT . . .

All-Day Ones to Be Moved. Park-and-walk, is the Borough's philosophy these days where parking meters are concerned. The next step in moving all day meters from the Central Business District will be taken shortly, but the Borough's mayor and Council would like to talk it over with the citizens first.

Tuesday, October 12 at 8 p.m., Council will listen to citizen comments on the new meter plan. Under the proposal:

64 meters will be removed from the OBD (Central Business District), over half of them (33) from the Chambers Street yard.

The Spring Street lot will lose 18; the Park Place Lot 9; the Moore Street lot, 4. All

Wet

The wet is over, even if only for a couple of days, the Man reports. In its place, unseasonably warm weather will reign for a while, but who's to complain about sunshine in any form?

As for the future, if you are on speaking terms with Ginger, tell her to get lost. One of the biggest hurricanes in recent tropical storm history could move in this direction some time in the next few days.

Charting at 100 miles an hour and covering some 18,000 miles, she's playing the womanly game of keeping people waiting. If she finally moves northeasterly, even the fringe benefits could drive Doria from memory.

will be replaced by two-hour meters.

10-hour meters ("all-day") will be installed as follows:

25 on the south side of Stockton between Nassau and Library.

15 on the south side of Spruce, along the St. Paul's cemetery line.

14 on the west side of Charlton.

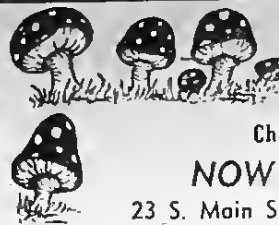

10 on the north side of Mercer just off Nassau. These meters are already there, and will be converted to 10-hour times. The other meters are new installations.

"I hope it doesn't cost too much and take money away from buying more books. . . . "I like it because now we can come more often" (from a 10-year-old).

The 375 visitors checked out 817 books and records. They observed how easy it is to use the library Sundays when traffic and parking are easier. People who work six days a week said it was good to be able to come on Sunday afternoons.

But he's not wholly sold on Sunday afternoon openings because he wants to buy more books and money can only be spent once. Princeton's library has only 75,000 books — three books per person — with a circulation of 370,000. "I'm like a department store," he grins, "lots of customers and not enough merchandise!"

One of the three was not arrested at the scene. During the MAYOR GIBSON TO ATTEND DEMOCRATIC RECEPTION: Newark Mayor Kenneth Gibson will join Dr. and Mrs. Howard Mele at a fund raising reception they are having for Township Committee candidates Tom Hartmann (left) and Mayor Jim Floyd. process of arresting there was some confusion, reported Borough Lt. Michael Carnevale, and one of the suspects fled. He later appeared at Borough headquarters with a member of the PHS faculty.

Police first on the scene requested and from other Borough squad cars and from Township police. In all, eight patrol cars responded. According to police, there was some scuffling and some angry words were exchanged, but no fighting. "I think the action we took was proper," said Lt. Carnevale.

The incident began at 10:23 last Wednesday morning when Detective Anthony Rantone observed a group of students in the circular drive in front of the school, one of whom he reportedly saw rolling a marijuana cigarette. "Det. Rantone was performing a surveillance and had the necessary equipment to make a close observation," commented Lt. Carnevale. He declined to describe the equipment.

Det. Rantone then proceeded into the circular drive area, in which more than 50 students were gathered, in a marked patrol car operated by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Ptl. Joseph Wilhelm. At that time, they identified the three under suspicion and placed them under arrest.

According to Lt. Carnevale, Borough police have been making daily surveillances for the past several years, all involved with the investigation of drug use and abuse. "We go wherever these surveillances take us," he said.

Asked whether police would enter the high school if they had to make an arrest, Lt. Carnevale replied "yes, I don't consider the high school to be any more sacrosanct than the university."

TWO ARE CHARGED

For Heroin Possession. Two men were arrested by Borough police Monday night and charged with heroin violations.

Kim Craig, 18, 1 Margerum Court, was charged with possession and sale of heroin. He is being held in Borough Jail in lieu of $5.00 bail. Richard Novatkoski, 20, Clarksville Road, West Windsor Township is being held in $1.00 bail. He has been charged with possession of heroin. Both face a court hearing here scheduled for Wednesday.

Novatkoski was arrested at 10:05 p.m. on Witherspoon Street by Ptl. Thomas Michael and Ptl. Ronald Holliday. Craig was arrested an hour later at his home. Their arrests were the result of an observation the two officers made while on patrol, according to Lt. Michael Carnevale.

Marijuana Arrest. Dana K. Hayden, 20, of New Brunswick was arrested at 6:15 Saturday evening on Nassau Street near the University's Chapel Drive by Ptl. Michaud who charged him with possession of marijuana.

Hayden was later released in his own recognizance to await a court hearing. He is not a student, police said.

Alcohol Arrest. Friday evening at 7:45, the same two officers arrested James C. Attenborough, 19, 799 Princeton-Kingston Road, on Nassau Street near Moore.

They charged him with possession of alcoholic beverages and contributing to the delinquency of minors — a 14-year old girl and a 16-year old boy, both from Princeton. All three were in a car at the time of their arrest.

Attenborough was released in $250 bail to await a hearing Wednesday in Borough court.

PAYS THREE FINES

For Motorcycle Infractions. Thomas Mauro, 18, 45 Hillside Avenue, paid three fines in Borough court Monday night, all stemming from motorcycle violations.

Mr. Mauro pleaded guilty to driving a cycle without a face shield, without the presence of a licensed driver and without a registration. Total fines on all charges was $40.

Douglas W. Griggs, 22, 10 Berrien Court, was fined $15 for having no license in his possession, and George Forester, 38, 328 Alexander Street, paid $10 for a U-turn.

In last week's issue, Town Topics reported that John K. Bleimaier, 21, 32 Hawthorne Avenue, was fined $10 as an unlicensed driver. Mr. Bleimaier was charged under the unlicensed driver statute but he was fined because he had not signed his driver's license.

I-95 FIGHT CONTINUES

But Not in Court. Hopewell Township is finally convinced that it can not win its fight against the alignment of Interstate Route 95 in the courts, but it does not intend for a minute to give up the battle.

The Township has fought 195 all the way through the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, which dismissed the case in July. The next legal step would be the final one to the U.S. Supreme Court — and the Township doesn't think enough of its chances to risk the money involved.

Township attorney Edward B. Meredith told Committee-men that only about 200 of the 4,000 cases filed with the Supreme Court each year are heard. Mr. Meredith estimated that filing costs alone could run as high as $1,800.

Mayor Harry Collis said at last week's committee meeting that the Township would continue the fight through the New Jersey Department of Transportation, the Federal Bureau of Roads and other such agencies.

$1,300 DONATED

To PDS Penny Drive. The Megapenny Box at the Princeton Day School, looted of 130,000 pennies in July, is once again six inches deep in coins — and this time protected by a burglar alarm.

An anonymous donor presented Headmaster Douglas O. McClure with a check for $1,300 to be converted specifically to pennies. The donor, described as terribly disappointed that a thief would steal pennies collected by students for scholarships, wanted to restore enthusiasm to the drive.

One July weekend, thieves dismantled the Megapenny box and carted away 880 pounds of the coins, leaving only a thin layer behind. Six months of hard work and enthusiasm went out the window with the stolen pennies.

The students' twin goals in the drive, are to see what "a million" looks like, and to make a $10,000 gift to the school scholarship funds.

Last week drive co-chairman Lit Lyness and Connie Cain, with half a dozen junior and senior boys, picked up the pennies — 26 bags of 5,000 each — at Princeton Bank and Trust. A township police escort accompanied them back to PDS, and there were cheers again as the bags were emptied into the giant Megapenny Box.

When the committee added the pennies left behind by the

A Look At Princeton's Municipal Candidates

TOWN TOPICS' annual feature, "Why I Plan to Vote," celebrates its 20th year this week on page 41.

Each year, community-minded residents of Princeton are invited by the political parties to declare in "Why I Plan to Vote" their reasons for casting the ballot one way or another.

This year, TOWN TOPICS plans a series of five columns, starting this week with the race for Township Committee. Next week, readers may learn "Why I Plan to Vote" for one of the three candidates for mayor of the Borough. The third week will consider the Borough Council contest. In the fourth week, the column will return to the Township Committee election and in the final week, the Borough mayoralty race will once again be discussed.

Writing for the incumbent Township Committee Democrats this week is Mrs. Barbara Diamond, 393 Walnut Lane. A resident of Princeton for 18 years, (four in the Borough, 14 in the Township), she has been an active worker in the Democratic party. She was Mercer County Committeewoman for five years, a founder of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization and coordinator of the first Floyd-Hartmann campaign.

The writer for Republican contenders is Thomas C. Southerland Jr., 282 Western Way. An engineer and a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Mr. Southerland is assistant director of the Office of Research at Princeton University. He is past chairman of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association and the Sierra Club's local chapter, and served on the former Township Open Space Commission.

thieves and the coins collected during the summer, the collection had climbed to 145,000 pennies, well above the level in June.

As the Megapenny Drive picks up steam again, security has been tightened on the container. Students overcame arguments that the pennies be banked, on grounds that would destroy the original purpose to see one million pennies.

Now, however, the box is secured in a welded steel frame, and is further protected by a burglar alarm designed by PDS junior David Barach.

RECYCLE SATURDAY

At New Location. The Conservation Coalition will conduct its recycling drive this Saturday from 9 to noon in the two University employees' lots Nos. 6 and 16 to the north of the student parking lot off Faculty Road.

Drivers should enter from the usual place off Faculty Road. The first trucks will take glass, then metal, and newspaper last, and cars should be packed accordingly. Metal should have labels removed, be crushed, and divided into tin and bimetal or aluminum. Glass should be divided into clear, green and brown. Newspaper should be dry and tied in bundles.

William J. Landman, deputy commissioner of the Department of Public Works in Hempstead, will meet with representatives of several municipalities and the Mercer County Improvement Authority at 11:15 Thursday in Borough Hall, to discuss the experiences of his department, which is operating a door-to-door recycling program at a profit.

Hempstead soon expects to cover its entire population of 800,000, then expand to other materials besides paper. The coalition hopes to encourage municipalities in this area to adopt a similar plan.

The hearing in Trenton on the bill to ban non-returnable containers on a state-wide basis will continue at 2 p.m., Thursday. Those coalition members who had attended the hearing last week, expressed dismay at the way industries and unions had filled the seats with their supporters. They were also annoyed because so little attention was given to the fact that returnable bottles are cheaper for the consumer.

GIBSON TO SPEAK HERE

In Sunday Lecture, Kenneth A. Gibson, Mayor of Newark, will deliver a public lecture in Princeton University's McRow Wilson School Auditorium Cosh 10, Sunday at 4 p.m.

The talk, co-sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs and Princeton's Association of Black Collegians, will deal with the challenges confronting New Jersey's largest city, and Mayor Gibson's experiences during his first year in office.

A 39-year-old black who was born in Alabama, Mayor Gibson was raised and educated in Newark's Central Ward. A graduate of Newark College of Engineering, he was a professional engineer with the New Jersey Highway Department over these 4 New Plans that offer both Low-Cost Protection and Capital Accumulation

(Two also provide TAX-Deductions)

1. Combination Term Insurance and Guaranteed Double-Your-Money Savings Plan. This unusual plan combines a low-cost 10 year renewable term insurance policy with a savings deposit that's guaranteed to double in value in ten years. This is equivalent to about 7½% compound interest. Interesting?
2. Combination TAX-Deductible Life Insurance and Mutual Fund Plan. You buy a whole life policy at regular rates, but most of your payments will actually be invested in mutual funds. You also get substantial income-tax deductions. If you had initiated this plan 20 years ago your investment value today would be about triple the cash value of a whole life policy bought in the usual way. Choose from our selected list of funds that are up over 30% in the last 12 months.
3. Balanced Life Insurance and Investment Plan. Your one monthly check is split between the purchase of guaranteed cash value life insurance and mutual funds. Plan includes a disability clause that will continue both life insurance and your investments if you get sick. Can you think of a better way to assure your child's college savings plan or your comfortable retirement?
4. Double your Life Insurance without Paying More. If you now have $20,000 or more of whole life insurance, we can double your insurance without any added cash outlay. Your premium saving can then be invested in growth type equities. This plan also provides tax-deductions. Why wait to get the additional protection you need.

Drugs in the News

Princeton residents are invited to a school board-sponsored drug meeting Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in Community Park School. Participants will be Princeton High School staff members whose work involves them with drug users, and Princeton's juvenile police officers. School drug policies will be the subject for discussion.

A joint Borough-Township-Schools drug committee is beginning to take shape. The school board has unanimously agreed on the concept and the two municipal governing bodies hope to act formally during October.

The group would consist of elected officials from Borough Council, Township Committee and school board. According to Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, it would be empowered to work with any citizen or professional drug groups that might be appointed.

and the Newark Housing Authority before being elected Mayor. Mayor Gibson campaigned for the Newark mayoralty in 1966, and finished third. Last year he took on the incumbent, Hugh J. Addonizio, and emerged victorious.

The Woodrow Wilson School, site of the lecture, is located on the corner of Washington Road and Prospect Avenue.

POLITICS

Borough, Township, Borough Democrats announced this week the formation of a task force to explore ways of making better local budgets. Township Democrats and Borough Republicans urged regional approaches to the solution of problems and the Borough's maverick mayoralty candidate said anybody who seeks students' votes is merely out for political advantage.

Democrats, Edward Schneider, running for Borough mayor, and John Strange and Alice Male, both of whom want to stay on Council, declared this week that "The Borough's current line-item budget not only prevents many citizens from understanding exactly which programs receive tax dollars, but also may cover inefficiencies and overlaps."

The Democrats' Advisory Task Force consists of three economists at Princeton University (see photo), plus the three candidates.

"Princeton must utilize the most up-to-date techniques available for budgeting and financial planning," said Mr. Strange. Findings of the Task Force will be published before the election, Mr. Schneider promised.

Republicans. "Top priority" was assigned this week by the Borough's Republican candidates to seeking "long-time solutions to the environmental problems of the community."

Mayor Robert W. Cawley, seeking a second term, and Arthur P. Morgan and Thomas Cawley, running for Council seats, said they advocate regional solutions to environmental problems. This means establishment of a central authority and planning group, rather than a single large facility, they explained.

Mr. Morgan joined Thomas Cawley, former Borough engineer, in urging investigation of conservationists' charges that the proposed new regional sewer authority's plant will damage water resources. The candidates ask that construction be postponed until completion of the state's basin study.

The three candidates advocate continued study of ways to reduce the volume of solid waste and they support reusable containers and recycling.

the form of support for planning in the New Brunswick-Princeton-Trenton corridor thru state coordination as the best way of solving Princeton problems.

Thomas B. Hartman, running for re-election to Committee, cited plans in two neighboring communities — Plainsboro and Griggstown—to build some 7,500 apartments on Princeton's doorstep. "Continued un-coordinated development in the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer area is certain to exacerbate many of Princeton's current problems," he declared.

How wide a region should Princeton Hospital serve? How can we keep pollutants from entering Lake Carnegie from the Millstone River after the University dredges the lake? What can we do about Nassau Street's congregation of youth from many other communities? are questions raised by the candidate.

He urged consolidation of Borough and Township because it would provide Princeton "with a much more powerful voice than the two separate municipalities and would be better able to articulate the community's needs and long range aspirations."

Independent. Mrs. Marie Coan running for Borough mayor on the Independent ticket, declared that students have "neither the time nor inclination to become involved in the problems of the Borough."

Students may contribute to the economy, she said, but so do outside "transients" who come to Princeton to shop. "Should they be permitted to vote in the Borough, too?"

Work on Bridge to Begin

Now a month after tropical storm Doria, it may not look like it, but the County is working as fast as it can to repair that washed out section of the Pennington - Rocky Hill Road.

James B. DiLouie, Assistant County Engineer for Bridges, met with the Freeholders last week and got a $35,000 allocation to enable him to go ahead with the work. The money came from other projects Mr. DiLouie had planned for the future.

Because a larger structure will be built, not just simply a replacement, the work will take somewhat longer, Mr. DiLouie says. He estimates about one month. He has been authorized to go directly to contractors, himself, rather than advertise for bids, a process that would take much longer. Work on the new structure will begin as soon as Mr. DiLouie and a contractor reach agreement.

MORE FOR WELLER

From Federal Government. Senator Clifford Case's office in Washington announced this week that the Federal government will provide additional matching funds to buy the Weller Tract on Mercer Road as an addition to Princeton Battlefield Park.

The new grant is $27,076.10. The earlier announced sum was $47,923.90 bringing the total Federal allocation to $75,000.

BOND ISSUE BACKED

For W. Windsor-Plainsboro. By a margin of 112 votes out of 772 cast, residents of the regional school district of West Windsor-Plainsboro last week approved a $1.1 million bond issue which will provide additional funds for a 1,361-pupil secondary school. The vote was 442 in favor and 330 opposed.

A $6.9 million bond issue was approved in June, 1970, but the lowest bid for construction was $8 million. Last week's referendum sought approval of the balance.

In the Dutch Neck area, the vote was 213 yes, 171 no. In the Maurice Hawk School district, it was 181 yes and 126 no, while Plainsboro voted 44 yes, 33 no, plus four affirmative absentee ballots.

PUBLIC IS INVITED

To YWCA Program. On Wednesday evening, October 6 at 8 p.m. in the YWCA Lounge, the public is invited to a program to be presented by the members of the Iskcon Temple of Philadelphia. Several members will perform rituals and Rabindra Swarup will speak on the ideas of "Krishna Consciousness."

Persons do not have to have membership in either the YM or YW to be eligible to attend this meeting. The meeting is being sponsored by the YWCA World Fellowship Committee and a small fee will be asked to assist in defraying expenses of the group.

The YWCA World Fellowship Committee's object is to create an interest in and appreciation for people of all countries.

Campaign Warm Up — Who Stole the Posters?

More than 20 of the West Windsor Democratic Club campaign signs disappeared from Township lawns last Friday night. The club is offering a $50 reward for information leading to the arrest of the poster snatchers.

"This was a systematic effort, not a prank," Mrs. Patricia S. Bell, club president, said Tuesday. "Our signs ranged from lower Alexander Road near the Princeton Line, along the Princeton-Hightstown Road and over to Edinburg. All were gone. Somebody had mapped out every site we had."

The loss may have been the result of a non-partisan effort, as Mrs. Bell says that some of the Republican's elephant signs disappeared in early September.

Three of the Democrats signs have been found: two in Bear Brook Creek below Grover's Mill dam, and one in a storm sewer.

nationalities, cultures, religions, and ideas. The presentation of the Iskcon Temple is the first in a series of various groups to be introduced.

Further information may be obtained by calling the YWCA Office at 924-4825.

TOURS ON SATURDAY

Around Princeton. Bicycle and car tours of Princeton will be held this Saturday, based at Princeton Inn College. The route covers the major institutions, areas and neighborhoods of Princeton.

The bicycle tour is set for 1:30, led by Jim Frierson, Princeton University junior. Newcomers and those who are familiar with Princeton are invited. Refreshments will be served after the tour at Borough Hall.

Car tours are scheduled for 1, 2:30 and 4. There is no charge. Prospective guides will be welcomed, especially those who have access to microbus or stationwagons. Arrangements may be made with Beth Rom, 452-7932.

The tours have been organized by Miss Rom, Rick Sobel and Borough Councilman Martin Lombardo with the help of other members of University and town. An estimated 100 students have been introduced to the town through two previous days of car tours.

BACK TO SCHOOL SET

For Princeton High Parents. Back to School Night for parents of Princeton High School students has been scheduled for 8 p.m. this Monday.

The program, sponsored by the PTA, offers parents the opportunity to follow a typical school day. First stop will be at home room to pick up the student's schedule. Classes will be shortened to 10-minute "mini periods" with the student's own teachers.

Mrs. Patricia Wertheimer, new principal, will be in the cafeteria to greet parents during "lunch period". Refreshments have been planned under the PTA chairmanship of Mrs. Russell Davison. Mrs. Richard Cobb, president of the Littlebrook PTO, has volunteered to assist in serving in order to allow high school parents to visit classrooms.

Membership tables for PTA dues will be set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. Warren Huff and Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter.

RED CROSS REPORTS

On Flood Relief Aid. The American National Red Cross closed down on Monday its Mercer County Disaster Center which has been operating in the Colonial Fire Company on Kuser Road, Trenton, since tropical storm Doria and subsequent storms brought serious flood damage to the Mercer County area.

State-wide registrations for Red Cross disaster relief assistance totalled 2,876 with expenditures amounting to $716,766. In Mercer County 916 cases were registered with the Disaster Center and relief expenditures to date have cost $177,303.

For a period of time during the operation of the Center the Princeton Chapter of Red Cross provided volunteers and one staff member to assist with telephones and processing of relief applications. The Princeton Red Cross Youth Emergency Service volunteers worked throughout the first week in the Trenton area.

Randy Sutton, Chairman of the Youth Emergency Service volunteers reported on their activity. "We were in the city of Trenton all during the week of August 30-September 3. Working out of Disaster Relief Headquarters, even though we were short-handed, were Randy Sutton, Pete Mooney, John Christiansen, Steve Maples, Jeff Baily and Paul Soderman. "We did 10 jobs altogether.

Everyone of the people we helped by cleaning out their cellars were too old and weak to do it themselves and too poor to hire anyone to do it. Several people, while talking to me, broke down and cried.

Hurricane Doria swept through the Princeton area on August 27th and early on the 28th, 1971. The water damage that resulted was great, to many others as well as Nassau Oil customers.

Police Plan to Register All Bicycles

In a bike-oriented region such as the Princeton area in which there are a reported 17,000 bicycles, bike thefts are a common problem.

To combat this, Borough police are in the process of instituting a bicycle registration program which they feel is unique. "I don't know of any other department in this area that is doing it," remarked Lt. Michael Carnevale. "We hope to register every bicycle in the Princeton area."

Every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week through November 10, police will register the bike of students in the Princeton Regional School system by stamping into the frame of each a police serial number. The stamping is done in the gymnasium building located behind police headquarters.

This week, it was the John Witherspoon School. In following weeks, police will register bikes of students at Littlebrook, Riverside, St. Paul's, Johnson Park, Valley Road, Community and Princeton High School. Hours are 3 to 5 on Mondays and Tuesday and 1-5 on Wednesdays. A schedule can be obtained at each school or from the police.

This Saturday from 9 to 12 noon, police will register bicycles of adults. If the response warrants it, additional Saturdays will be set aside, Lt. Carnevale said. "We also hope to do all the bikes of university students, too."

The stamped number is recorded on three forms, two of which are kept in police files. In addition, Lt. Carnevale said that police are giving each student a card of bicycle "dos and don'ts" and two maps. One map illustrates bicycle paths on the Borough-Township master plan; the other illustrates streets and sidewalks on which bicycle riding is prohibited.

"We've done research on this and we've found that although this is a difficult way, eventually it will be the best way to combat bicycle larcenies," Lt. Carnevale said. Det. Thomas Procaccino is in charge of the program.

Without a doubt, Tropical Storm Doria left its mark on all of us."

Mrs. Gertrude Corson, National Red Cross Disaster Relief specialist, who has been in charge of the Center's operations, states that even though the Center has closed down, final processing of cases already registered will bring the cost of the county-wide Red Cross relief to an excess of $180,000.

Contributions to Red Cross Disaster Relief may be made through the local Red Cross Chapter.

To Princeton Inn College. The newly completed addition to The Princeton Inn College, undergraduate residential, social and dining center at Princeton University, was completed in the fastest time, 11 months, and with the highest percentage of minority employment, 25 percent, of any major construction project in Princeton's history.

Late last September (1970) the University awarded the $1,375,000 contract for 168 dormitory spaces to the Kendall Development Company, Twin Rivers, because, as John P. Moran, General Manager of Planning, Plant and Properties, pointed out, "Kendall's plan for minority employment on the project was convincing and its record of meeting very tight time schedules was impressive." Kendall's bid, the third lowest, was $60,000 above the low bidder.

The work force on the union project, which called for a total of 6,600 man days, averaged 25 percent minority workers overall and 20 percent

Clark, Dodge, which provides the quotations, must conform to a National Association of Securities Dealers regulation which states: "Prices falling below 50c bid shall be deleted from the quotation list and shall not be reconsidered until they again meet the qualifying market value requirement of $1 bid."

The rule forced Ventures Research and Development scalling Monday for 37 1/2c bid to be dropped from the list this week. It will be relisted when it reaches the required minimum price of $1.

among the skilled crafts. The company's contractual commitment to the University was to provide a minimum of 24 percent minority workers overall and 17 percent in the skilled crafts. "Both Kendall's commitment and performance far exceeded any previous experience here," Mr. Moran noted.

In addition to bettering the minority employment stipulations specified in the University contract, the project was completed in time for the opening of Princeton's 226th year and the arrival of the Princeton Class of 1975, starting Saturday, September 11.

Of brick construction, with standing-seam metal mansard roofs, the addition complements the architectural style of the Princeton Inn. It includes a three-story unit fronting Alexander Street, a second three-story unit fronting on the Springdale Golf Course, and a four-story unit joining the two and attaching them to the present main Inn building on the first-floor level by a covered patio. These buildings, together with the Inn Annex to which they also are joined, form a small courtyard to the side of the main Inn building.

The architect for this courtyard complex is the Princeton firm of J. Robert Hillier.

NEW MEMBERS SOUGHT
By YMCA. Some 60 enrollment volunteers will launch the YMCA Enrollment Campaign Thursday, at 8 p.m.

The enrollment - with a goal of securing 200 new YMCA members - will last two weeks. The volunteers will be armed with a number of incentives to interest prospective men in the Y. This offer will provide the opportunity for immediate membership plus a full year's use of the new athletic center to open early this winter. The membership offer also includes a liberal partial payment plan and a direct saving since Y membership fees will be increased when the new facilities are opened.

Three membership categories will be available during the enrollment, the first providing regular locker facilities with use of the new gym, squash and handball courts, new exercise room, outdoor basketball court, a jogging track and the swimming pool.

The second membership category called the Business Men's membership includes

This is a rare opel Four peaceful country acres offer all sorts of lovely living possibilities — a slope for skiing, a pond for skating or swimming, woods for wandering through, fields for playing, meadows for livestock grazing, a hilltop setting for the marvelous family house that overlooks it all and the seclusion to enjoy it. Stepping indoors is a bit of a wrench, but happily it's not a letdown. The large front hall, wide stairway, big windows and big rooms, decks adjoining bedrooms — all help to bring the great outdoors in.

Concurrently, the designing owners have given the house a New England kind of appeal with their tasteful use of wood — hand-hewn beams, paneling, cherry kitchen cabinets, random floors, etc. — and cozy touches like fireplace alcoves in both living room and master bedroom. Specially speaking, there are four more bedrooms, library, dining room, 2 full baths, and over all, huge informal playroom, potential dormitory and storage. In addition, there are innumerable details, both practical and aesthetic, to make living and entertaining easy and attractive. Construction and condition are both excellent; and this rare combination is even more so because it is in Princeton Township exactly 2½ miles from Palmer Square!

Here we have a bit of local history as a background for a charming house. The early wing of this brick and frame Colonial was built about 1840 on "rural" Witherspoon Street as an addition to the original Princeton Hospital. When modernization took over, the house was moved to its present more rural location and a setting where it should live happily almost ever after! However, history does not make a house a home, so we'd better get to why this is such a nice one. The charm of the period — ups and downs, twists and turns — is quite evident as you enter the front hall. The pretty living room with its brick fireplace wall, the airy master bedroom with its three-way exposure, and the handsome, cherry-paneled playroom are all nice-sized. The dining room, den, kitchen and two additional bedrooms are smallish but perfectly adequate for the smallish family the house is right for. More than adequate are the 2½ baths and the laundry-workshop-utility-storage areas in the bone dry basement. Most adequate is the feeling of warmth and friendliness that pervades the house! Four rustic, sloping acres with enormous trees, pleasant informal landscaping and fine flagstone terrace match the appeal of the house. $79,000

The Ride You Need Most Doesn't Cost a Cent

It doesn't cost anything, ever, to ride in a Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad ambulance.

Passengers, admittedly, don't take the ride for pleasure. But they do take it for anguished necessity and no matter how long the ride, no matter how late the hour, no matter how elaborate the care and equipment, it never costs a dime.

The Squad, formed 32 years ago, is now in a fund-raising drive. All its funds come from the voluntary support of people who live in Princeton and surrounding towns. Municipal governments don't contribute. Princeton Hospital doesn't contribute.

tribute. It's just the ordinary citizen who wonders if maybe, some day, he might have to take that ride.

Douglas Watson, Borough police officer who's current president of the Squad, tells about a police escorted trip to New York with a two-day-old infant and the infant's doctor in the back of the ambulance. ("We never learned how the baby turned out..." Mr. Watson reflects.)

He recalls other trips, to Philadelphia or as far as Delaware and northern New York, in relay arrangements with other First Aid Squads in other communities.

Overcome by Smoke. There was the kitchen employee in a recent Princeton restaurant fire, overcome by smoke and rushed to the hospital. Mr. Watson smiles proudly at that one; his son, Douglas Watson, Jr., a volunteer fireman with Hook and Ladder, received an award for going to the aid of the stricken man.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Film from 1933 to Be Shown. In these days of a craze for nostalgia, the Historical Society of Princeton fifth annual Theatre Benefit will feature the 1933 film, "Footlight Parade" on Tuesday October 12. The cast includes Ruby Keeler, Dick Powell, Joan Blondell and Jimmy Cagney. The musical director is the campishly enshrined Busby Berkeley.

On October 6, 1933, the theatre critic of the New York Herald Tribune, Richard Watts, Jr., reported that "the new Warner musical show is elaborate, fantastically extravagant in its chorus numbers, well acted and pretty certain to be a smashing economic success." Appropos to the 70's as well as to the 30's, Mr. Watts continues, "Nevertheless, I think that if you want to keep up with your cinema, you should very definitely see it, if not for the hilarity to be found in it, then for the almost lavishness of the spectacles staged by Mr. Berkeley."

"Footlight Parade" will be shown at 8:45 on October 12 at the Playhouse. It will be preceded by a dinner at the Nassau Inn for members of the Historical Society and their guests. Co-chairmen of the theatre benefit are Martin McVay and Mrs. Bruce French.

The public is invited to attend this movie spectacular. Tickets cost $2.50 per person and are available at the Society's headquarters, Bainbridge House, 158 Nassau St. and at the Playhouse. Proceeds will be utilized for the continuing restoration of Bainbridge House, which dates from the mid-18th century and for the Society's lecture series and programs.

TWO FOR THE SHOW: "Footlight Parade," the 1933 Busby Berkeley musical will be this year's benefit film for the Princeton Historical Society. Mrs. Bruce French and Martin McVay are co-chairmen of the Dinner Theatre Benefit for the Society. It will be held October 12.

"BUTCH" & "COWBOY" At McCarter. Two 1969 hits, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" and "Midnight Cowboy" will be screened at McCarter this weekend in the pre-season revival series.

"Butch Cassidy" will be shown this Friday at 7 p.m. and again at 9:15 p.m. Paul Newman and Robert Redford star as a couple of affable outlaws who are audacious in their casual way of robbing the banks of the early west.

Before the second showing only, McCarter will show a 40-minute documentary called "The Making of 'Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid'" filmed during shooting, and narrated by the two stars, the Director George Roy Hill and Screenwriter William Goldman.

"Midnight Cowboy" will be shown twice this Saturday, 7 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. In this John Schlesinger film, Jon Voight leaves his small Texas hometown and goes to New York aiming to make his fortune by being a stud to wealthy, sex-starved women. He encounters Dustin Hoffman, playing a crippled con artist and their relationship comprises the rest of the film.

"Ma Nuit Chez Maud", 7 p.m. and 9 p.m., will open the International Film Series at McCarter next Tuesday.

Voted one of the "ten best" last year by the New York Times, the Village Voice and the New York Post, "Maud" was also nominated for an Oscar as the Best Foreign Film.

Center Receives Grant

The Hansberry Art Workshop of the Princeton Youth Center has been awarded a $6,000 grant from the New Jersey Council on the Arts.

The money will be used for audience education, the operation of various workshops in the arts and the establishment of a permanent community resource in Afro-American culture, according to Don Evans, executive director of the Center.

A pilot program, "The Young, Gifted and Black," will seek talented young artists and will present their concerts, exhibits and lectures.

"The grant is definitely a start in the right direction,"
Mr. Evans said.

William Cook, head of the Princeton High School English Department and a member of the cast of "Mr. Charley," explains the play in this fashion.

"We must, James Baldwin says, weep and sing sad songs for America, a nation that has become the victim of its own lies." These lies, Mr. Cook continues, are the inferiority of the black man, his desire for white women, his inability to occupy positions of dignity and trust. "We have heard them so long that many of us, black and white, have come to believe them . . . we cannot be human but must limit our actions and relations to the narrow limits these lies prescribe."

"Mr. Charley" is white America and the "blues" are the tragedy of white America's denial of brotherhood.

MUSIC In Princeton

BAROQUE CONCERT SET
By European Ensemble, The Estro Armonico Amsterdam, a European chamber music ensemble that specializes in 18th century music and performs on authentic baroque instruments, will present a concert at Westminster Choir College at 8 p.m., Tuesday.
The concert, which is open to the public without charge, will be held in The Playhouse.

Estro Armonico is an ensemble in which the individuals (Frans Vester, traverso flute; Jaap Schroder, baroque violin; Veronika Hamp-viola da gamba; Anneke Uiltenbosch, harpsichord) have won international fame. Their common interest and experience in Baroque art make them a group which has an uncommon understanding of,
and feeling for, the different aspects of the music of this period.

Their special feature is the use of authentic baroque instruments, essential for the resonant and relaxed sound of music. The repertoire of the ensemble is focused on the 18th century, but with extensions towards the early Baroque with its Italian and German string literature.

BREAM BACK

For Fourth Appearance, Julian Bream will bring his skill as lutenist-guitarist to Princeton for the fourth time on Monday, October 18, opening the Music-at-McCarter series. Tickets are now on sale.

As usual, Mr. Bream will devote the first part of his program to music for the lute.
He will play from the compositions of Francis Cutting, Frescobaldi, DiMilano and John Dowland. After intermission, he will turn to the guitar, performing the Weiss' Partita in D, Five Preludes by Villa-Lobos and the "Fantasia," composed for Mr. Bream by the contemporary English
composer Malcolm Arnold.

PIRATE IS SEASICK

In Children's Play, "The Seasick Pirate" is the play chosen by Pennington Players for their 14th annual Children's Theatre production.
The play will tour the area
during March. Organizations may reserve dates now by calling Sandra Jefferson at 921-5295 between 5-7 p.m.

Pennington Players' children's theatre offers its annual production to any organization interested in sponsoring the play as a fund-raising event.
Parent Teacher Organizations, Boy and Girl Scout troops and similar groups use the productions as fund producers.

Casting will be held in late December at dates, times and places to be announced. The cast includes three pirates, a cook (male), three lovely ladies and a mother. Richard
M. Loatman, of the Princeton Regional Schools music department, will direct.

"The Seasick Pirate" was written by Michael G. Jordan Jr., author of two other plays that have been produced by the Children's Theatre. This one is Mr. Jordan's first musical for children.

PLAYHOUSE

Death in Venice (now playing) is sophisticated and visually beautiful under the direction of Luchino Visconti.
Thomas Mann's novella was based upon his reactions to Gustav Mahler's death. He wrote a character study of a man on the brink of disaster, with death all around him, who finds perfect beauty in a young boy and worships that boy from a distance.

Nothing in Dirk Bogard's fine interpretation suggests anything really homosexual.
Bjorn Andreson is the youth, and Silvana Mangano is the boy's dignified mother.

The scene is 1911, and the costumes establish a brilliant background. The music heard

SYMPOSIUMS PLANNED
Scheduled At Bellows. The skin care techniques developed by dermatologist Erno Laszlo have long attracted the rich and the famous who willingly paid $75 for a consultation in exchange for a beautiful skin. If you'd like to join in for less, the Laszlo Institute has sent a consultant to Bellows, 208-210 Nassau Street, to hold symposiums from 10:30 to 12:30 this Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

You'll discover that the Laszlo scientific skin care, used by Greta Garbo, Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper, the Duchess of Windsor, a number of men who refuse the publicity, and, of course, Jackie Onassis and daughter Caroline (since the latter was age 7) is astonishingly simple and keyed to common sense.

Dr. Laszlo methods will be discussed, and if you like, your skin will be analyzed. You will be taught an easy ritual of skin care and given the list of Laszlo treatment soaps, oil and lotion recommended for your skin—in summer and winter versions. The symposiums are free, although you must call Mrs. Kay Ryan or Mrs. Helen Foster at the store (924-3221) for a reservation, as the hour-long symposiums are held in small groups.

Miss Elaine Posta is the Laszlo Institute consultant who will lead the symposiums. Naturally, she has a creamy skin, even though she is a fraction over thirty. And her dedication to the Laszlo method stems from the remarkable things it has done for her own skin.

A lively, enthusiastic woman, Miss Posta told us last week that there's a six week's corrective phase as your skin adjusts to the Laszlo treatments. "After that, we want to know if your skin is not feeling well."

The technique include lots of hot water and Laszlo soap. You always use cotton balls, and not a washcloth or a sponge. "You should never rub over skin. You break down the fatty tissue. This is what causes the aging process," Miss Posta comments. "Dr. Laszlo does not believe in facial massage for that reason."

There is also a foundation and a powder. "These are not intended to be cosmetics," Miss Posta warns. "Both are actual treatments. Use water as hot as you can comfortably stand it. Extreme temperature would be damaging!"

You'll hear about sea-mud soap and Shake-it, the Laszlo lotion that comes in six different shades and gives you the "Laszlo Glow" and other preparations—19 in all—depending on what you need. Bellows will become a kind of duplicate of the Erno Laszlo Institute, where the skin regime analysis, soaps, oils and lotions will be available. Your individually completed questionnaire will be analyzed by members at the Institute itself, as a double check on the store analysis. Of course, you pay for the products, and you must order the complete treatment. It's about $55 to $79.

"What we want to do," Miss Posta adds, "is provide a climate in which your skin can function naturally. We don't say that our creams will nourish the skin. You can only nourish the skin from the bloodstream. We don't say that our creams moisturize. We feel that a cream can do only one thing: lubricate. Continuing care is the big thing we offer."

time.

There are Advent calendars to embroider on linen — you also sew on small rings here and there and insert a piece of wrapped candy for each day of the season. ($13.50).

Quaint children, depicted in appliqued felt and fabric, then embroidered, come in small kits which also contain a mounting board. ($3.95). And bibs that will delight you — appliqued and embroidered in unusual patterns. ($2.50).

For the Christmas table — centerpiece patterns to embroider in two shades of red on white linen — or choose the different design in two blues — or a third we saw in green and blue. ($4.75 up). There are many to choose from.

"God Jul" is cross stitched at the bottom of a small bell pill that features two wreaths on white linen. ($4.50).

Or — still on stitchery — homespun mats (44" sq. finished size) that feature a beautiful circle of triangles and hearts to trace in wool and hind down in linen. Or appliqued apples outlined in embroidery.

For a child — narrow linen suspenders with red embroidered ladybugs. For a house gift — an embroidered picture — using beads and gold thread. Mounting board comes with the kit.

Or Knit! Knit yourself or your daughter a long skirt on a round needle — with a pattern in a contrasting color at the hem. Start at the top — it's easier to adjust the length — and the round needle makes the knitting go faster.

For Christmas, Nordiecraft has hat and scarf sets for men and women — in Scandinavian patterns. It is hard to choose!

There are a great many sweater patterns and a plentiful supply of Scandinavian wools. We saw the metal buttons that give an added flair to a cardigan — the design on one was a Viking ship, on another a snowflake.

Nordiecraft has customers who buy the wool shag pillow kits and small rug projects to give to their bedridden friends to work on. A pillow is $12. This is a good way to see if you like this type of work.

Nordiecraft is very helpful with instructions. There are small classes from time to time, and if you have any experience in knitting or embroidery, they will immediately give you the little extra instruction you may need for the Scandinavian designs.

BOOTS SWING ALONG

At Richard's. "The men's trend is boots," Dick Lanahan said as he prowled the premises at Richard's Shoes, 148-50 Nassau. "From low rally boots to the medium height, side-zip, to the below-the-knee pull-ons or laceups."

The biggest name in rugged leather boots is Frye — and Richard's has them. The prices range from $35 to $125. They're a quality boot with a current look — and wear for years.

"Among the men's shoes," Mr. Lanahan goes on, "the trend is to the light-weight, flexible, soft leather type. They're predominantly Bally of Switzerland. ($27-up). Bally has always been the leading men's stylist and most successful shoe manufacturer in the world."

He adds, "People are going back to the simple shoe. They're not jazzed up with overbearing hardware anymore. The leathers are soft — and the sole flexes like rubber when your foot bends."

Richard's — on the men's side — also has a ghillie-look shoe made by Bally in black or brown. There is a scattering of the slightly higher heel in a few models — a sampling of what might become the vogue here. We saw a handsome high-lace boot in dark brown mahogany calf with black laces. The Rossi of Italy boots are of a soft, firm but very flexible leather.

Ladies, too. Over on the girls' side, there are boots and more boots. Everything from fine kid and calf to satina suede and glove suede to the less expensive stretch vinyls. Prices are about $28 up.

The boots come in marvelous browns, tans, black, persimmon, even a prune shade. Most are by Brevitt of England and by Bally. There are both dress boots and lined, all-weather boots. The latter come with heels or flats, as you wish. The height ranges from ankle to knee.

In addition to the awesome boot collection, Richard's is introducing Olof Daughters of Sweden's rugged-wear shoes — unisex models that range in price from $25 to $40. These are of soft leathers; the soles are flexible crepe, and there is a choice of three styles.

In another mood, sandals are in demand for the fall. Richard's has suedes in rich browns, rust, navy, tan. The new season's ghillies come suedes and patents. The ghillie with a medium heel. We saw lies, by Amalfi and Bally, start at about $24.

Richard's has Capezio's with the young look — flat, wide-toed casual shoes. And, for the outdoors types, hiking boots in leather and suede by Morelands. ($27.50). Men and women's sizes.

Sheepskins. Richard's is going in for leather clothes, more and more. The great piece this fall is Moreland's sheepskin coat from England. Men and women's sizes and styles. This is NBC's official Winter Olympics coat. Looks marvelously warm and it should last forever. It can be drycleaned easily. The manufacturer guarantees no problem to a reputable cleaner.

Also on the leather clothes theme, Richard's has skirts, hot pants, tunics and jumpers in suede — and from Santa Fe, midi length button skirts. For the men — leather shirts, coats and vests are in.

Announce Our CONSOLIDATION SALE

We've been going together for many many years; now we have decided to settle down in one location.

The RUG & FURNITURE MART Inc. is moving from its State Highway 206 location to join IVY MANOR in our newly-remodeled and redecorated showrooms in the Princeton Shopping Center, N. Harrison Street, Princeton, N.J.

Upon completion, around the first of the year, we will have nearly 100 beautiful room settings of the latest home furnishings for your shopping pleasure. Our policy of selling nationally advertised merchandise for less and our friendly way of doing business in this area for nearly three decades can best be maintained by this consolidation of locations.

We hope to be ready for "Debut 72". We can then afford our patrons shopping conveniences and pleasures not possible before.

Our inventory at the RUG & FURNITURE MART Inc. on State Highway 206 in Princeton exceeds $100,000 in CARPET & FURNITURE. It would be far too costly to move this merchandise.

So, continuing until the walls and floors are bare, we are offering the greatest bargains in beautiful home furnishings you could ever imagine. It would be much too costly to itemize this much inventory with SALE prices, but our reputation assures you that it will be to your advantage to be here during this REMOVAL SALE.

The sale tags you will find on every piece will be real eye poppers! It is rather unusual to find bargains at this time of year, so come early. Remember, SALE is now in progress at THE RUG & FURNITURE MART, Inc., State Highway 206, Princeton, N. J.

P.S. Anyone interested in office furnishings, included in this REMOVAL SALE will be all floor samples, including wood and metal desks, filing cabinets, swivel chairs, side and arm chairs, credenzas, lamps, ash trays, bookcases, storage cabinets, tables, chairs mats, etc. An example: One 30"x60" desk, contemporary, with 42" run off with filing well and floating pedestal box & file drawers, finished in Georgetown Red. Polished chrome trim and legs. Reg. $329.70 for Just $187.90. All these items for your inspection in our CONTRACT OFFICE DISPLAY ROOM on the second floor.

ATTENTION CARPET DEALERS

Our new carpet showroom plans call for a new method of showing our floor covering. We will have several large 9'x12' carpet display racks for sale. Also one John Best Co. Swing Arm rack that accommodates 30 9'x12' rugs. For more information, call Mr. Arthur Yard, (609) 921-9100.

ATTENTION SPACE HUNTERS

Around the first of the year, we will have approx. 6,000 sq. ft. of space for rent. Ideal for business or offices. If interested, call Mr. Walter Harris, (609) 921-9292.

ATTENTION ANYONE

At the end of this removal sale, we will have used desks, chairs, store fixtures, air conditioners and lots of other interesting items for sale. Call Mr. Walter Harris, (609) 921-9292 for information.

PRINCE
Carnal Knowledge (now playing) is a comedy by Mike Nichols and Jules Feiffer about two males who have been preoccupied with sexual gratification from college days in the 1940's until 20 years later, when, after a wife apiece and many mistresses, they are still searching.

It's a commentary on modern morals, often done with wit and spice. The format is a series of skits, all variations on the battle of the sexes theme.

Ann Margaret gives an amazingly good performance; Candice Bergen is the foil for the two protagonists, Arthur Garfunkel and Jack Nicholson.

GARDEN
The Hellstrom Chronicle (now playing). This documentary contains some remarkable color photography of the insect world. It is dedicated to the proposition that man's real enemy on earth is the insect.

An award winner at Cannes this year (Grand Prix de Technique), the film offers science-fiction, science fact, photographic achievement, even horror aspects. Wagon Green produced and directed Cameron Ken Middleham and Helmut Barth deserve awards for their patience and hard work.

Why I Plan to Vote

REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATIC

By Thomas Southerland, Jr.

By Barbara R. Diamond

The next few years will be critical if we are to protect the environment of the Princeton area. By placing John Kuser on the Princeton Township Committee, the voters of Princeton Township will have the right man serving them, in the right place at the right time.

Princeton is at a critical point environmentally for several reasons. As the spread of asphalt continues to proliferate within our boundaries, flooding becomes more and more common after drenching rains and melting snows. The more trees and vegetation we destroy, the greater the effect on air pollution, noise, temperature, water table and aesthetics. And as our population continues to increase, so do the problems associated with sewerage, water treatment, waste disposal and traffic congestion. The result is additional pressure to seek more tax rates in order to keep up with the demand for services, but always at the sacrifice of our land.

It is already apparent that we must look to the Township Committee for leadership in initiating a sustained recycling program. Also, the disposable bottle question and indiscriminate spraying in our Wildlife Refuge are matters needing municipal consideration and proper action. To deal with these problems, without shutting our doors to low and middle income families will require innovating ideas mixed with sensitivity and an appreciation of the environment.

We need people who are not only strongly committed to run for Township Committee, but who offer the necessary experience if we hope to save our local environment. John Kuser, backed by his running-mate, Barbara Smoyer, fills these requirements. I know them both well and have seen them in action on enough occasions to know that they will provide leadership for conservation causes. Having worked with John as a Trustee of the 1200-member Stony Brook-Albion Watersheds Association, I admire his ability. He is now Chairman of the Association, and has done work in many assignments to earn that responsibility and distinction. He has also been active in, and a spokesman for, many other programs trying to protect our environment. Furthermore, he is patient and has the asset of being able to get along with people extremely well.

I have served with Barbara Smoyer on the Township Open Space Committee (before it became the Open Space Commission). I have found her a fighter — but always a fair fighter — for every program that will protect Princeton's fast disappearing open space. She interprets open space as space for people to enjoy and grow in. She is a warm and sympathetic person who is never lacking for good ideas, a fact completely consistent with her approach to all the many programs of human welfare and civic betterment that she has served so well over the years.

John and Barbara have advanced the challenging proposal that the Township Committee should create an Environmental Protection Committee, chaired by a member of the

"Isn't it about time a woman served on Township Committee?" The answer from the Democrats of Princeton Township is an emphatic "yes", and we've been saying it for years! But let's look at the record of the Republicans currently asking that question.

From 1920, when women gained their voting rights, until 1971, the Republicans had uninterrupted control of Township Committee. Until 1968, when Democrats Jim Floyd and Tom Hartmann won their Committee seats, Republican nomination virtually guaranteed election. In 50 years the Republicans did not nominate a woman.

In 1966, Township Democrats nominated a woman who was highly qualified in terms of both community service and government experience. Why didn't the Republicans demand a woman on Township Committee?

In 1969, the year immediately following the Floyd-Hartmann election, another highly-qualified Democratic woman ran. Why didn't the Republicans demand a woman on Township Committee?

So the question they are asking is puzzling unless the question they are really posing is "Isn't it about time a Republican woman served on Committee?"

If the Republican woman is elected in 1971, the Republicans will once again have control of Township Committee. Let's take another look at the record.

Less than a year ago, when Jay Bleiman joined Floyd and Hartmann on Committee and the Democrats gained majority control, there were no Township women serving on the Regional Planning Board! The Democrats have appointed a woman. (Golda Gottlieb, Executive Director of the Middlesex - Somerset - Mercer Regional Study Council; former President of the Princeton League of Women Voters; former Chairman of the State League's Regional Planning Study.)

There were no women on the Zoning Board of Adjustment! The Democrats have appointed a woman. (Margaret Broadwater, M.A., doctoral candidate in political science, Rutgers U.)

There were no women on the Board of Health. The Democrats have appointed two women. (Margaret Sprout, Survey Director of Princeton United Community Fund Area Citizens Survey, which published in 1966 "Needs and Services: a Report on Governmental and Voluntary Health, Recreation and Welfare Services." Mrs. Sprout has also been recognized for many years as an expert on health problems for the League of Women Voters.

The second appointee is Ellen Peterson, L.L.B., Harvard, former Co-ordinator of N.J. State Narcotics Programs, Department of Community Affairs, and former staff member of the U.S. Dept. of Health Education and Welfare.

There were no women on the Environmental Design Review Committee! The Democrats have appointed a woman. (Dr. Suzanne Keller, Professor of Sociology, Princeton U.)

In other words, highly qualified women are being appointed in every area of community concern and, as vacancies occur, these appointments will continue.

The Republican record isn't ancient history; it ended less than a year ago. Do the women and men of Princeton want to reward the men who have relegated women to prescribed roles for 50 years? Or do the women and men of Princeton want to reward the people who have demonstrably sought the best talent everywhere?

Unlike the Republicans, the Democrats in Princeton Township have no separate Women's Club. The Democratic women in Princeton are an integral and important part of the party organization, and hold executive and leadership posts on every level, and not just at campaign time!

"Isn't it about time a woman served on Township Committee?" Yes, indeed! The Democrats have run women before and will continue to run them in the future. The real question is not about one woman serving on Township Committee, but about women and men working together on an equal and continuing basis. Which women and which men will serve you best? The Democrats — just look at the record — and that's why I'm voting for Jim Floyd and Tom Hartmann.

HOUSE TOUR THURSDAY

Sponsored by Woman's Club. Refreshments and a White Elephant Sale in the garden of Mrs. Ralph S. Holmes, President of the Woman's Club of Princeton, and Mr. Holmes, 2 Ober Road, will be the center of the route of the five members' homes open on the "Along the Chrysanthemum Trail" House Tour this Thursday, from 10 until 4.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Matthew J. Glinka, 293 Walnut Lane, or at any of the homes the day of the tour. The list of homes and a map may be picked up at the Princeton Hospital Reception desk. Proceeds of the Tour will be shared equally by the Princeton Hospital and the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Starting at the eastern end of Princeton, visitors will find two very handsome brass lighting fixtures flanking the colonial door of Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Michael's spacious two-story, center hall home, 63 Hemlock Circle. Antique lovers will enjoy the Michael's collections of furniture, lamps, and appointments of special interest to those whose love is Williamsburg and its era.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Chandler's home, 107 Westcott Road, will be a surprise, for what appears to be a small, cozy hillside home expands within, and to another spacious level. Large glass windows take full advantage of the towering trees. Both of Mrs. Chandler's rooms holding her Grand pianos contain fireplaces, beam ceilings, oriental rugs, and on the lower music room floor, have been laid beautiful brickred clay Ohio quarry octagon tiles.

Those on the tour can slip over to the Holmes' garden, 2 Ober Road, (inside in case of rain where many of Mrs. Holmes' lovely paintings hang for refreshments and purchase of White Elephants before going on to the large colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Holmback, 106 Winfield Rd.

Township Committee, who would be specifically charged with coordinating all programs and activities that may have an affect on our physical environment. This idea shows the thought and interest they have devoted to ecological concerns in Princeton government. I feel that John Kuser is the one to serve in that role as the governmental watchdog of our physical well-being.

In this election, Princeton Township voters who are concerned about protecting our environment should forget partisan labels and vote for the people who have the commitment and experience to lead this crusade — John Kuser and Barbara Smoyer.

The Holmbacks have traveled widely, and have brought home many lovely objects which will interest those who plan a trip, or, bring pleasant memories to those who have been abroad. The kitchen arrangements in this home are unique and will lend many ideas.

On the way to or from the Pearson's home in Elm Ridge Park, visitors can stop at the corner of Rosedale Road and Galbreath Road West for a pause in each of the rooms of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton H. Jacobus. There are many "do it yourself" ideas here amidst the French Provincial and Traditional furnishings.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Pearson is located at 1 East Shore Drive, Elm Ridge Park. The real surprise here will be the 28-acre lake on which their southern colonial house borders. The entire decor will have an automatic appeal, regardless of special interests to those who find happiness in a beautifully furnished and decorated home.

Serving on the Committee with the Chairman, Mrs. Dudley W. Clark, Jr., are Mrs. Thomas R. Webb, Refreshments; Mrs. Roger Willock, Hostesses and Houses; Mrs. Milton S. Winters, White Elephant Sale; Mrs. Philip R. Shays, Decorations; Mrs. Samuel M. Wilson, Publicity; and Mrs. Matthew J. Glinka, Tickets, 293 Walnut Lane.

FAIR THIS WEEKEND

In Rocky Hill, Rocky Hill's annual Bid 'n' Buy fair and auction will be held this Saturday, rain or shine, beginning at 10 a.m. on the baseball field on Washington Street (Route 518).

The auction will have among other things Lionel trains and track, Rocky Hill nostalgia in the form of a section of the eagle decorated brass fronted mail boxes and the old weighing scale from the Rocky Hill Post Office, a set of "mint condition" bedroom furniture, a 1952 Chrysler in excellent running condition, picture frames, Limoges china, a charming, small toy box in the shape of a trunk, old jewelry and silver, and, of course, furniture of all descriptions.

The White Elephant tables will be separated into children's toys and games (all children's prices) and adults' items such as china, all kinds of small household needs and everything not big enough to auction.

This year added to the activities for children will be the hay wagon ride, cotton candy and popcorn under the auspices of the Rocky Hill Volunteer Fire Company. There will also be a "paint in" creating your own art on long sheets of paper and the old favorites of spin art, make-up plus many free events. You will find a "bring your own instrument or borrow one of ours" rock band for the kids to play in.

The book booth, growing larger every year, will have hundreds of books and several sets of encyclopedias, plus issues of the "National Geographic" from 1914-1937 and many issues of "Horizon" magazine.

The Green Thumb will have bulbs from Holland, plants and handsome wreaths made from pine cones, nuts and pods. Refreshments will be available all day and the booth next to this is the Gourmet table of baked goods and jellies made by the women of Rocky Hill.

The aprons of the Community Group's special design will be available again this year in exciting new materials. Last year these were all sold out by noon.

Handicrafts classes and workshops have been sponsored free at the Rocky Hill Community House for months so that this booth will have needle point glasses cases, pillows, crewel embroidered old fashioned dolls, knitted sweaters, ponchoes, mad caps and hats, quilted girls' clothes, unique paper weights, decoupage, macrame belts, and more.

Two special new attractions are the art gallery featuring artists, potters and photographers from a wide area including New York; and the Blawenburg Band. The band, the oldest in New Jersey, under the baton of George Soele will play during the afternoon.

The funds raised by the Bid 'n' Buy, sponsored by the Rocky Hill Community Group, help support the Group's classes, historic restoration and recreation activities, and most particularly the public library in the Community House for the use of all Rocky Hill and Montgomery Township residents. This year, too, the Volunteer Fire Company and Rescue Squad will benefit through their participation in the event.

FINANCE DRIVE BEGUN

By League of Women Voters. The League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area is opening its annual finance drive. A meeting of the Finance Committee was held on Tuesday in the home of the Finance Chairman, Mrs. George T. Derby, 49 Allison Road.

Tristram B. Johnson honored the League by attending this meeting and supporting the League in its plans for the Annual Finance Drive.

Other members of the League present were Mrs. Arnold Papkin, president of the area league; Mrs. Arthur Getis, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Price, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Robert Hillier and Mrs. Albert

Markwardt, former finance chairman.

The West Windsor Unit of the Area League was represented by its President, Mrs. Bertrand Berson and by Mrs. Sheldon Israel.

Other members of the Finance Committee are Mrs. Wayne Birch, Finance Chairman in West Windsor; Mrs. Thomas Lies, Finance Chairman of the Montgomery Unit; Mrs. Robert Levine and Mrs. George Mellor of the Princeton area.

Each year the League calls upon members of the Community to support its work. The League covers the Borough and Township, Montgomery Township, Rocky Hill, West Windsor Township and Hightstown-East Windsor.

The League is a non-partisan organization which provides information about candidates on governmental issues. The League does not support or oppose candidates of political parties. It does, however, take positions on issues after study and consensus of its members.

ART In Princeton

FOUR VARIED EXHIBITS
At University Art Museum. The display of graphics by Albrecht Durer is enriched by the scattering of prints by artists who helped to shape this famous printmaker's style.

When Durer began his work, the influence of the Italian Renaissance was beginning to make itself felt in Germany, and to soften the hard edge of German realism. Durer, in his search for the most perfect models he could find, turned to the work of Mantegna and Pollaiuolo.

Works by these artists are exhibited with the Durers, demonstrating their influence on both subject and style. The juxtaposition of the works of several printmakers of this era also provide contrasts that heighten the grace and refinements that Durer was able to project into his work.

Fine detail, delicate line and soft beautiful tonal areas are presented with unbelievable clarity and control.

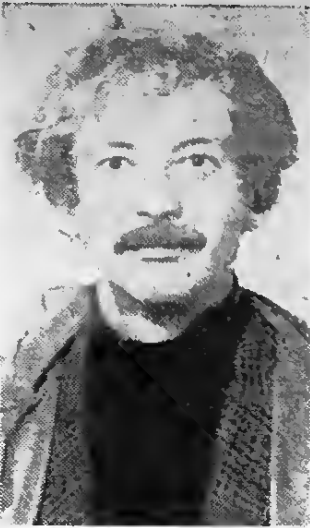

The exceptional craftsmanship that went into the making of these prints is ably demonstrated by one of the artist's wooden plates shown alongside the print.

At Gallery of Fine Art. Painter Joseph Ablow has taken the simple things in life and artfully combined them to create an elegant collection of still life. With a legacy of color and paint from the impressionists, Ablow has contributed a contemporary sense of form and design.

Simple bowls, cups and teapots are combined, utilizing the play of contrasting shapes and creating spatial tensions between similar forms. Both very large paintings and the very small pastel compositions included in this show sustain the same sense of well-designed space and richness of color.

We are shown the artist's development as a colorist in this series of still life that cover several years. Earlier paintings are done in grays and cool deep tones. As he progressed, Ablow moved to a warmer palette, where strong, hot reds and oranges are played against cooler tones to create jewel-like color.

Ablow's sense of composition and preference of subject matter has remained constant, making the color transitions even more interesting as they allow the viewer to observe the effects created by color change in similar paintings.

REN ASHLOCK will participate in Princeton Art Association Instructors' Show at McCarter Theatre. Mr. Ashlock, a teacher for seven years at the Adult School of the Museum of Modern Art, will give a class in painting at the PAA. Classes begin Monday; registration is still possible, call 921-9173.

Later works include small, well-constructed pastels and large paintings. A very few, very skillful drawings are also included.

At Gallery 100. The Peter Cook show at Gallery 100 presents another skillfully executed group of landscapes and portraits by this artist. Mr. Cook's horizons are expanded in this collection and include small, colorful landscapes of Italian scenes as well as his traditional Maine seascapes and landscapes.

Paint is richly applied in the realistic views, brightly in the Italian scenes, and in cool summer tones in the Maine collection. A range of subjects include fishing villages, beach scenes and this artist's usual competent portraits.

Carved wooden birds by Charles Greenough Chase are included in this show. Lifesized carvings with a smooth finish that heightens the surface of the black walnut and ash woods combine nicely with the paintings that surround them.

Color photographs of the birds, laminated to wooden plaques, are also displayed.

At the Eye for Art. Lithographs by three Spanish printmakers are on display at the Eye for Art. The works of the three artists offer strange and strong contrasts in both style and point of view but are united by a virtuoso display of the lithographers art.

A series of dream sequences by the late Federico Castellon are possibly the most profound and mysterious in this collection. Each one is a strange, somewhat melancholy and supernatural scene with the human form as the main subject. In what must surely be explorations of the subconscious, dreamlike figures, portrayed in muted tones, float among smaller forms, some blithe and some suffering.

Four views of jesters and clowns by Mentor Blasco contrast gaily with the more somber prints. Strongly colored in hot tones, rich in bright pattern, the clowns show another aspect of contemporary Spanish printmaking.

A collection of large and small prints by Alvar exhibit a rich use of color and technique. Transparent, deep tones, pattern and texture are all combined with soft

They should — they've spent a combined total of more than 25 years in service to the Borough of Princeton. They believe that the individual counts, that his ideas and concerns are important. They have the credentials: Bob Cawley, Borough Mayor; Art Morgan, over ten years in Borough planning and zoning; Tom Cawley, Borough Engineer for five years, Borough Planning Board for five years. They know your concern about taxes, a downtown plan, parking, youth, the environment, and they urge you to become involved with them in finding solutions.

Cawley, Morgan and Cawley hope and expect to reach every Borough voter by Election Day — and to listen. They also just might ask you to vote for The Team that Knows How to Make Princeton Better — for All.

Princeton Eleven to Face Moment of Truth at Columbia Saturday

A Princeton team which last week fell victim to one of the major upsets in the long history of football here will try to regain its balance Saturday against Columbia.

The assignment will not be easy — the Lions have a better chance of defeating the Orange and Black than at any time since they last managed to do so in 1945. Kickoff at Baker Field is set for 1:30.

Key to the New Yorkers' success is their talented junior quarterback, Don Jackson, who packs only 167 pounds on his 6-1 frame. First heard of here when he came within three points of trimming the Tigers in Palmer Stadium last fall, he went on to achieve a better sophomore year at Columbia than any of his famed predecessors — four of whom have played in the National

SPORTS In Princeton

Football League. This quartet ranges from Marty Domres and Archie Roberts of the past decade back to Paul Governali and Sid Luckman.

Jackson sustained a knee injury while blocking before the first half ended at Easton Saturday and his absence was a major factor in the Lions' inability to score. Held out of further action, he watched Lafayette edge the Light Blue, 3 to 0. In the event he is not able to play a full game, Columbia will go with sophomore Glenn Erickson, but Jackson's availability is firmly anticipated.

Lions Have Goal Potential. The defeat at the hands of Lafayette must have been almost as much of a shock to Columbia as Princeton's upset by Rutgers was here, for the Lions think they have a shot at the Ivy title for the first time in nearly a decade. Maybe they do, with Jackson in top shape, and the Tigers will find out Saturday.

Principal targets in the Columbia aerial game will be flanker Jesse Parks, who has

QUICK LOOK AT COLUMBIA

OFFENSE: Built 90% around quarterback Don Jackson, top sophomore last year in Lions' history. His passing will test questionable Tiger defense to the limit.

DEFENSE: Better than average at Columbia, but defense has rarely been a really solid characteristic of Lion teams.

CHIEF ASSET: Jackson — plus belief that team has a chance for best season in last ten.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Running game so far has not balanced out aerial threat.

TYPE OF OFFENSE: Multiple T.

ONE REASON RUTGERS WON: When Rutgers scored 33 points in first 27 minutes Saturday, Princeton defense had yielded more than its offense could make up. Here, pass from Scarlet quarterback Leo Gasienica goes through hands of Tiger defender Kevin English (11) into those of receiver Bob Carney for victors' fourth touchdown. (Bob Matthews Photo) coaches say is one of the top receivers in the nation, and Mike Jones, the split end who led the Ivy League in pass receptions last season. Having been so thoroughly chopped up last week by Leo Gasienica of Rutgers, who is not rated as Jackson's equal, Princeton's defensive platoon must improve to the point where there is no vestige of comparison between its performance this Saturday and the miserable showing it made in the first half last week.

Coach Frank Navarro can call on 26 lettermen, many of them the 13 sophomores he was forced to start in 1970, when the Lions were only 3-6 but came within six points of winning three more. Now, a year later, there is more depth and better balance than Columbia has had since its brief rise to a first-place tie in the Ivy standings with Harvard a decade ago.

Fullback Rick Assaf and co-captain John Sefcik are the principal ball carriers, but the Lions' ground game was in trouble against Lafayette, netting a little over 100 yards when its passing failed in Jackson's absence. Columbia has, however, an excellent chance of trimming the Tigers for the first time in more than a quarter century and it will be no surprise if it manages to do so Saturday.

A COMPLETE BREAKDOWN

So Says McCandless of Defense. Very rarely in the years of Princeton football have players with the depth of experience that the Tigers' defensive unit can claim come as completely unglued as they did against Rutgers. Jake McCandless called the first half performance, when the visitors put more points on the board than any Scarlet team had in an entire game against Princeton, "a complete and absolute breakdown."

"Our errors were compounded by the penalties we incurred," McCandless went on.

"We failed to execute our individual responsibilities — particularly," he pointed out, "in the two counter-flow plays," the double reverses which produced a pair of Rutgers touchdowns.

Compounding the mistakes were penalties which, by game end, totalled the length of the field. Included among them were two for roughing the kicker — totally unnecessary contact if the lineman comes in at the proper angle; two for clipping, two for back in motion on kicks, one of which cost an extra point; two for personal fouls and one for too much time in the huddle. Most of them were so costly that they played a major part in the scoring, either handing points to Rutgers or hurting the losers badly. The extra time in the huddle moved the ball back from the visitors' four to the nine, an area where Princeton eventually lost all chance to win when three second-half drives stalled out.

Ineffective as it was, however, the Princeton attack had a far better day than the experienced defensive unit — which started eight seniors plus three juniors who had seen considerable action last fall. Since five of the eight teams the Tigers have yet to meet currently have greater scoring potential than Rutgers, a season that could be as disappointing as last year's may still engulf the Orange and Black.

Things are seldom what they seem.

Big cars often pose as big cars, when they're really small cars.

For instance, notice how much bigger the big car seems than the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.

Then count the number of suitcases it can take on: only 12.

Now, notice how small the Squareback seems to be.

Then count the number of suitcases it can take on: 16.

That's because the Squareback has 32.8 cubic feet of carrying space. Which is one and a half times as much as that of the largest sedan trunk.

Of course, if you really have a lot to carry you can always fold down the Squareback's rear seat. Then you'll have more than twice as much carrying space as the largest sedan trunk.

So which would you rather have—a sedan that looks like a big bully but really is a 12-suitcase weakling?

Or a little fella who's really a 16-suitcase giant?

more astounding developments of the puzzling afternoon was that Rod Plummer, who had all kinds of trouble passing last fall, connected for 307 yards — one of the two or three best performances in the Tiger's record book. It was 71 yards more than Dick Kazmaier had on his best day (against Cornell just 20 years ago) and not far from the 351 which the late Dave Allerdice ran up against Penn back in 1940.

Plummer was 21 for 32, an even dozen of his completions being credited to sophomore Bill Skinner, the lanky newcomer at flanker back. Plummer's yardage and Skinner's receptions made them current national leaders in these departments on per-game averages.

But if the aerial attack surprised pleasantly, the presumably solid running game did not. Hank Bjorklund churned out 96 yards, almost all with difficulty, and Doug Blake 35. Three times in the second half — when Princeton had 38 minutes in which to score 16 points to win — the offense bogged down inside the Rutgers ten. The Tigers put the ball in motion ten times from that short distance and failed to score even once, a short coming that was bleakly remincent of last year's troubles. More than anything else, it was the near-total lack of ability of the wide receivers to block that cut down productivity on running plays.

A DAY TO REMEMBER: While Princeton was losing to Rutgers, quarterback Art Plummer completed 21 passes for 307 yards and two touchdowns. Total gain is one of highest in Tiger record book.

With both teams — particularly Princeton — shocked by defeat in their opening games, victory this weekend may go to the one which first gets the upper hand. If Jackson can continue to create the havoc which Gasienica wrought in the first 30 minutes, the Tigers may become so badly demoralized that the entire season can reach the edge of disaster. Working in the Tigers' favor is the fact that Rutgers gained 264 yards in the first half but was held to a mere 38 thereafter, while Gasienica recorded nine completions in the first two periods and only one in the last two. Princeton's problem, however, is the fact that this is a veteran platoon; it can improve only if the errors it made last week prove to be first-game mistakes, and not because its basic potential can increase as it gains experience.

Future opponents, particularly those after Columbia, will provide a greater test for the Tigers' aerial game than did Rutgers. It will be interesting to see how much of a repeat performance Plummer can give; how much that extremely high total of 307 yards represents new-found ability that can be called on again. Flanker Bill Skinner, who grabbed a dozen passes, is a major asset to the Tigers' air arm, and after just one game is within season-long striking distance of the all-time record of 30 passes caught in one year.

Ivy League Forecast

Princeton over Columbia. First-game errors gone.
Yale over Colgate. Elis the more experienced.
Penn over Brown. Loser wins the cellar.
Dartmouth over Holy Cross. Indians starting well.
Cornell over Rutgers. Ithacans' attack balanced.
Northeastern over Harvard. Early trouble at Cambridge.

Last Week

5 Right, 3 Wrong — .625

To win, however, Princeton must play defense and its of fensive line must block to give it a running game. Think of the ironic twist of events if it developed that Plummer became a really great passer — and inability to solve other problems kept Princeton from topping the .500 mark.

PHS VS. EWING HERE

Little Tigers Hope to Rebound. The weather was ideal. Considerably less than ideal was the final score: Hamilton 37, Princeton High School, 0.

The opener last week confirmed two things — Hamilton is one of the Mercer County powers and Princeton High has a long way to go. The Little Tigers were no match for Hamilton's two outstanding running backs, Bob Harris and Shawn McCrae, and now it looks as if Dick Wood's club is going to have to contend with another pair of fine backs in its second game here Saturday morning with Ewing. Kickoff is 11 a.m.

Ewing, 2-7 last year under new coach Frank Baron, was supposed to be rebuilding this season. But in losing 26-22 in its opener last week against favored St. Anthony's, the Blue Devils unveiled a running attack that gives evidence that Ewing's comeback is a head of schedule.

Ewing outrushed St. Anthony's 230 yards to 117. Halfback Don Henley accounted for 131 of them in 22 carries, scoring all three Ewing TDs in the process. Bob Harter gained 87 yards in 17 carries. Henley alone gained more than the entire PHS backfield did against Hamilton.

Predicts Win. "We'll come along," said Wood after he had witnessed the debacle to Hamilton. "We'll win the next one. We'll be ready."

PHS, off its flat performance against Hamilton, needs a win badly because following Ewing the team will travel to Trenton, Trenton and Hamilton have been the choices to capture Mercer County honors.

It has been a long time

THIS IS THE WAY IT WAS: Hamilton fullback Doug Burnett had plenty of running room between himself and any PHS defender as he carries for a 41-yard gain to the Little Tiger nine in the second quarter. An apparent score two plays later by Hamilton's Shawn McCrae was nullified by a holding penalty but the visitors could afford to shrug it off. They won easily, 37-0. (Staff Photo) since any PHS eleven was as outplayed as completed as the Little Tigers were in the opener with Hamilton. Wood put a time limit on it when he said, "Right now, we're behind more than we have been in the past five years."

For PHS it was not only zero score, but zero offense, zero spirit, zero everything. The flaming batons that three girls twirled at halftime was the only fire PHS displayed all afternoon. One sideline spectator summed it up when he shouted, "You boys are in a trance out there."

Inexperience Confirmed. "I only confirmed what I've said from the beginning," said Wood later. "We have no experience."

That lack of experience was evident from the beginning. The Little Tigers were tight. Worse, they committed a string of costly turnovers right from the start that Hamilton converted into quick touchdowns.

After taking the opening kickoff, PHS started to drive downfield but stalled. When Ned Fry attempted a field goal from the 50, the snapback was fumbled. Hamilton recovered on its own 41.

On the Hornets' first play from scrimmage, McCrae behind excellent blocking, raced 44 yards to the PHS 15. Harris went to the 5 and two plays later McCrae took it in. McCrae, who was to rush for 118 yards in 11 carries, ran around his left end for the two point conversion.

On the first play from scrimrecovered on the PHS 27. McCrae later converted that mistake from four yards out and Chris Carey booted the extra point.

There was more to come. In three tries the PHS backfield of McGuinn, Steve Sanford, Hyette Briscoe and Tom Hofgesang failed to move the ball. Sanford's punt was blocked. Hamilton took over on the PHS 18, and Harris scored from the one two plays later.

PHS, for its part in the first half, completed one short pass and gained about 40 yards rushing.

Second Half, Same Story. Hamilton started the second half by having Harris return the kickoff to the PHS 38. Fullback Doug Burnett, McCrae and Harris ran for successive first downs. Burnett finally going over standing up.

Again PHS couldn't move and again Sanford's attempted punt was blocked, this time by Hamilton's Ron Delay. McCrae scampered from the PHS 44 to the 5 on the next play. Reserve halfback Craig Hunt then took it in. By this time it was 37-0 and Hamilton coach Bill McEvay had sent in the reserves.

mark was any PHS back able to go more than 10 yards. McGuinn carried from his own four to the 20 for 16 yards. Princeton's longest gain — 40 yards — came on a McGuinn pass to Hofgesang with five seconds remaining. Only 5-7, 154, Hofgesang made a remarkable, jumping reception between two defenders. It was one of the precious few bright spots.

In their defense, the inexperienced Little Tigers were up against a superior team. In Harris and McCrae, Hamilton has perhaps the finest two running backs in the area. The offensive line showed Princeton what blocking was all about. In short, Hamilton had come to play. It took six busloads to transport the Hornet team, band and army of pom-pom girls.

"Hamilton was tired up. They have a good team," agreed Wood. "I still think we have some good boys," he added.

In the post-game handshaking, one Hamilton player, flushed from the big win, shouted, "Hey Hornets, what have we got?" Perhaps the inept PHS squad wasn't a good answer but what it is, Dick Wood could use some of it right now.

EASIER FOE NEXT

For PDS Football Team. The King School in Stamford, Conn. may be just the right medicine for a Princeton Day football team trying to forget the very painful memories of its home opener.

Whipped, 25-0, by powerful Montclair last Friday, and making innumerable errors in the process, the Panthers will find the going a whole lot easier this Saturday against a team, which suffered an even worse beating by Montclair, 44-0, two weeks ago.

King and PDS should be about on the same level for this one, although King will have the advantage of an extra game under its belt and the home field. Game should go to the school making the fewest mistakes.

The Blue and White will be trying extra hard to eliminate some of the ones which saw it turn the ball over to the opposition on seven occasions Friday, five times on pass interceptions and twice on fumbles. Also needed is plenty of work on the pass defense. Two Montclair touchdowns came on long bombs, and another was set up by a long gain on a pass completion.

It took the winners only until the second play from scrimmage to find a hole in the PDS aerial defenses and the result was a 58-yard pass completion and a quick 7-0 lead.

Montclair scored again on the first play of the second quarter culminating a drive that started on its own 35-yard line. Then with time running put in the half, it put together three passes, the third covering the final 35 yards into the end zone, as the half ended for a 19-0 lead.

In the third period, Montclair's running game began to move consistently, and it soon had its final touchdown.

The Panthers running game was its strongest point, but without much of a passing attack to complement it, Montclair was able to concentrate effectively on the run. Kirk Moore gained 50 on the ground. PDS's total yardage was 131, compared to 362 for the winners.

HUN TO START ANEW

As Streak Ends at 33. It's all over at 33.

Hun School shared in the disastrous weekend for Princeton-based football teams when it saw its streak of 33 straight games without a defeat ended Saturday in Livingston by Newark Academy, 38-0. "We're all disappointed but it was one of those things that had to happen sometime," said Hun coach Dave Leete. The loss brings to an end the state's longest undefeated record.

NEW HUN ASSISTANT: Emil Pauli, former Springfield College captain, is the new assistant to Hun coach Dave Leete. Pauli gained honors as an all-New England offensive tackle.

Hun will attempt to start all over again Saturday when it entertains Admiral Farragut in a 2 p.m. contest. It will be Hun's home opener and the first game of the season for the Future Admirals.

Leete reported that Farragut has numerous of players coming back from last year and he looks for another tough game.

Didn't Play Good Football. "They were quick. They did a good job against us," commented Leete on Newark Academy, which is now 2-0. "We made a lot of mistakes — mental errors. We just didn't play good football."

"I think we are a better team, though, than that score indicates," Leete continued. Hun threatened to score only once against the home team, in the second quarter.

Newark Academy scored two of its touchdowns on 3-yard runs by John Kimmel and two more on pass plays of 59 and 65 yards.

The victors' defense was just as good as the offense. It intercepted five of Hun quarterback Alan Chalifoux's passes — more than he was quarterback Alan Chalifoux's was under constant pressure from the Newark defensive front four all afternoon.

HAC CAPTURES FIRST In Flag Football League. Harrison Athletic Club evened its league record at 1-1 last Sunday with a 12-6 victory over Merry-Go-Round Bar in Lawrence.

George Packard threw to Greg Spady for one score, and John Claghorn scored on a 25-yard run for the other. The defense, led by Jack Ainsworth kept the pressure on the losers' quarterback most of the game.

Ivy Inn also ended the first two weeks of play at 1-1, when it lost to Hurry Back Inn, 18-12. Bruce Sandvik scored six points on a run, and Steve Peters provided the other points with an 85-yard kick-off return.

HAC will meet the Ewing Giants, 0-2, at 11 a.m. this Sunday at Community Park.

Maybe someday
all cars will be built like the Citroën.

Maybe someday.

Maybe it depends on you.
When you demand a car, for example, that would ride like a Rolls but costs like a Chevy. One that would take curves like a Maserati but seats a five full passengers. A car that would be in every sense a luxury car—yet burns gas like a tiny Volkswagen (27 MPG).
Maybe you could get that kind of car from Detroit if you demanded it. Or you could buy one right now. It's called a Citroën. Just go to your nearest Citroën dealer and test drive it.
Learn how good other cars may someday be; and how someday is today with a Citroën.

OPENS A WEEK AWAY
In Midget Football. The Princeton Midget Football League will begin its sixth season Sunday, October 10, when the four-team senior division will start a six-game schedule.
The four teams are sponsored by The University Store, Princeton Fuel Oil Company, The Rug and Furniture Mart and Nassau-Conover Motors. All senior division games will be played as part of double-headers each Sunday afternoon. Kickoff for the first game is 1 p.m.
Team coaches are Ray Wadsworth, assisted by Red Ross and Toni, University Store; Tom Johnson, assisted by Scott Blomeley and Tom Gültece, Fuel Oil; John Budd assisted by Jay Davidson and Charlie Plot, Rug Mart; and Peter Budd, Bob Bonette and Red Trani, Nassau-Conover.

Five teams will comprise the junior division again this year: J. P. Cleaver, The First National Bank, Sibson and Company, S. T. Peterson Construction, and Hilton Realty are sponsoring teams. A four-game schedule will begin October 16 at Community Park. Doubleheaders will be played each Saturday beginning at nine a.m.

J. P. Cleaver Company will be coached by Joe Operman who will be assisted by Jerry Gumbiner and Roland Muri. Geoff Nunes will direct Hilton Realty. He will be assisted by Dave Miller and John Brienza. Bob Taylor, Parrish McKellar and Jim Ward will once again guide S. T. Peterson.

The Sibson team will be directed by Tony Baldino. Don Johnson and Bob Naylor will assist. The First National Bank team will be directed by Denny Crimmings, Charlie Elliott and Jim Pittman.

FINALS ON SATURDAY

In Springdale Tournament. Mike Shillaber and Joe Masick will play Jim Mead and Bill Shafer Saturday in an 18-hole final for the Governors' Cup at Springdale Golf Club.

In quarter-final action last weekend, Ted Tams and Glen Eshbach defeated Bob Shillaber and Jack Sweeney, 2 and 1; Mike Shillaber and Masick won from Ralph Allaire and Dean Chace, 1 up; Tom James and Dick Judge eliminated Bergy Bergesen and Lyle Fitch; and Mead and Shafer ousted Alan Poole and Charlie Coppinger, 5 and 4.

The semi-final matches went to Shillaber and Masick, 3 and 2, over Tams and Eshbach, while Mead and Shafer turned back James and Judge, 2 and 1. Saturday's matches were played in bright sunshine but a feeling of normalcy prevailed Sunday when all matches were completed during light but persistent showers.

HOPFIELD IS FIRST

In Sunfish Races. Only 15 Sunfish took to the water Sunday as the Carnegie Sailing Club was plagued by poor weather conditions for the third consecutive week.

After completion of three races, John Hopfield had captured first place. He was followed by Walt Gibson and Bob Holzman. Hopfield leads in the fall series.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land... and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?

Prescription Prices Down 10% While Cost Of Living Climbs

The cost of most consumer goods and services climbed dramatically during the past decade, according to the Consumer Price Index of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The only notable exception was the cost of prescription drugs which declined 10% during the 10 year period.

According to the Index, cost of medical care increased 68% from 1960 through 1970. Food away from home increased 59%, housing went up 40%, both apparel and transportation rose 36%, personal care climbed 33%, and the price of food for home consumption increased 27%.

Commenting on the reduction in prescription drug prices, Willard B. Simmons, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Druggists, said that both retail pharmacists and pharmaceutical manufacturers can be proud of their record in reducing prices during the inflationary period. "This achievement is especially remarkable in view of continuing improvements in drugs which control and cure disease, relieve pain, and extend lives for Americans everywhere," he added.
